Principal's Message

It gives me immense pleasure to present the Annual Report of Sree Narayana College, Chempazhanthy for the academic year 2024–25. The report reflects our continued commitment to academic excellence, holistic development, and social responsibility in accordance with the ideals of our great Guru, Sree Narayana.

During the year, the college made significant strides in teaching, research, and extension activities. Faculty members have been actively engaged in academic enrichment programmes, research projects, and publications. Students have brought laurels to the institution through their outstanding achievements in academics, sports, and cultural events. Our clubs, cells, and departments have worked in harmony to organize seminars, workshops, and outreach initiatives that extend learning beyond the classroom.

The IQAC has taken commendable initiatives in strengthening the institutional quality framework through effective implementation of ERP software, capacity-building programmes, and the promotion of innovative practices such as Spectrum and Beyond the Boundaries. These efforts reflect our constant endeavour to align with the changing higher education landscape envisioned by NEP 2020.

I take this opportunity to express my sincere gratitude to the management of Sree Narayana Trusts for their unwavering support, to the faculty and staff for their dedicated service, and to the students for their enthusiasm and commitment. Together, we continue to nurture an environment where learning, innovation, and values coexist harmoniously.

Let us move forward with renewed vigour and shared purpose to uphold the vision of our Guru — "Attain freedom through education and strength through organization."

Remedial Coaching Report 2024-25

Remedial coaching is a supportive programme offered by college to help the students who required additional academic support to achieve the desired learning outcomes in specific subjects. The program aimed to bridge learning gaps and improve the performance of slow learners, academically and socio-economically weak students. The main objectives of the programme is to identify slow learners, provide them with individualized attention, improve academic skills and raise the level of comprehension of specified subjects. This will provide a strong foundation and increase confidence and competence level of students. The programme offers monthly remedial classes to slow learners, tracking their progress by personalised interaction with learners.

The Remedial coaching committee of the academic year 2024-2025 was constituted with the following faculties. Dr Ashalatha A, Department of Chemistry was the Co-ordinator, Ms. Parvathy Ramachandran, Department of English, Dr. Dhanya S.R., as members. The committee members met thrice this year in the presence of Principal Dr. Raakhee A.S. and IQAC Co-ordinator Dr Ambili Raj D.B and planned common strategy to be followed by all the departments in the conduction of remedial classes. The committee prepared the timetable and monitored the classes conducted by teachers.

The departments conducted remedial classes for students in both core and complementary subjects. Weak students were identified by tutors based on their performance in internal examinations. Priority was given to students with arrears in University examinations, those with frequent absences, and slow learners. The remedial classes were conducted in both online and offline modes, depending on the convenience of teachers and students, without affecting regular class hours. The Science departments organize special practical sessions for students admitted late, enabling them to catch up with the rest of the class.

Dear Sir/ Madam

The Department of History, University of Kerala cordially invites you to participate in the Three-Day International Seminar on Maritime Trade in Colonial South India, scheduled to be held from March 24 to 26, 2025. This seminar explores maritime trade in colonial South India, focusing on indigenous trading networks, European colonial policies. The seminar is open to scholars, researchers, and academicians to discuss port cities, indigenous and European trading practices, merchant communities, commodity flows and socio-economic consequences of colonial maritime policies. The seminar will be available in hybrid mode.

As we all know, maritime trade has served an important role in shaping economic and socio-cultural history of South India, particularly during the colonial period. The arrival of European powers—beginning with the Portuguese in the late 15th century, followed by the Dutch, the English, and the French—ushered in a new era of commercial enterprise along the Coromandel and Malabar coasts. These coastal regions became vibrant centres within transoceanic trade networks, facilitating economic transactions, cultural exchanges, the movement of people and commodities. This three-day international seminar aims to provide a platform for scholars to explore the transformative shifts in maritime trade patterns, port infrastructure, and socio-economic structures in south India.

The proposed seminar will analyse how European powers imposed monopolistic controls and maritime regulations that altered trade relations of this region, both within the subcontinent and with regions such as Southeast Asia, East Africa, and beyond. The examination of their strategies of adaptation and resistance, the discussions will extent the pliability and agency of local trading communities in the face of colonial economic interventions.

We invite scholars, researchers, and students to participate in this intellectual dialogue, contributing valuable insights to the discourse on maritime trade in colonial South India.

1. Cooperative Week Celebration (November 14, 2024)

The 71st All India Cooperative Week, observed from November 14th to 20th, 2024, was celebrated with enthusiasm and engagement, focusing on the theme “Role of Cooperatives in Building Viksit Bharat”. The week aimed to highlight the significant contributions of cooperative societies to India's development and foster a deeper understanding of cooperative principles among students. The diverse range of activities organised successfully captured the essence of cooperation and its relevance in achieving a developed India. Here's an overview of the key programs:

- Flash Mob: Setting the Stage for Cooperation: The celebration commenced with a vibrant Flash Mob performance by students. This energetic and spontaneous event served as a powerful and engaging way to grab the attention of the student body and create initial awareness about Cooperative Week and its underlying theme. It effectively set a positive and inclusive tone for the week's activities, encouraging participation and highlighting the collaborative spirit inherent in cooperatives.

- Food Fest: Cultivating Entrepreneurship and Business Acumen: The Food Fest provided a practical platform for students to explore entrepreneurship within a cooperative framework. By preparing and selling homemade food items, students gained firsthand experience in various business aspects, including cost management, pricing strategies, profit calculation, and customer interaction. This initiative not only showcased culinary talents but also instilled valuable business skills and fostered teamwork, aligning with the cooperative principle of economic participation.

- Exhibition: Showcasing the Power of Cooperatives: The Exhibition served as a visual and informative platform to educate students about the diverse roles and impacts of cooperative societies. It likely showcased successful cooperative models, their contributions to various sectors (agriculture, finance, etc.), and their alignment with the vision of a developed India. This activity aimed to deepen understanding of how cooperatives function and their potential in nation-building, directly addressing the week's theme.

- Cooperative Visits: Experiencing Cooperatives in Action: Organizing Cooperative Visits offered students invaluable real-world exposure to the functioning of cooperative societies. By visiting active cooperatives, students could witness firsthand the practical application of cooperative principles, understand their operational dynamics, and interact with members and leaders. This experiential learning provided a deeper understanding of the impact and challenges faced by cooperatives in contributing to the nation's progress. Paper Presentation: Fostering Research and Critical Thinking: The Paper Presentation segment encouraged students to delve deeper into the theoretical and practical aspects of cooperatives. By researching and presenting on topics related to cooperative models, challenges, and their role in national development (potentially including analyses like the Karuvannur issue), students honed their research, analytical, and communication skills. This activity contributed to a more informed understanding of the cooperative sector and its potential to build a "Viksit Bharat."

- Games: Learning Through Engagement: The inclusion of Games provided an interactive and enjoyable way for students to learn about cooperative principles and related concepts. Activities like the "Game Based on Logo Identification" (as previously described) enhanced awareness of branding and marketing, while other games could have been designed to illustrate Entrepreneurship has emerged as a critical driver of economic growth, innovation, and employment generation in the 21st century. The club's recent registration at the District Industries Centre (DIC) marks a milestone in the college's efforts to promote entrepreneurship and self-employment among its students. This report provides a comprehensive overview of the Entrepreneurship Development Club, its objectives, activities, and the significance of its registration at the District Industries Centre.

Registration at the District Industries Centre (DIC)

The registration of the Entrepreneurship Development Club at the District Industries Centre (DIC) is a significant achievement that underscores the college's commitment to promoting entrepreneurship. The DIC is a government body that plays a crucial role in the promotion and development of small-scale industries and entrepreneurship at the district level. By registering the club with the DIC, Sree Narayana College has opened up new avenues for its students to access government support, resources, and mentorship.

Activities and Initiatives of the Entrepreneurship Development Club

Since its inception, the Entrepreneurship Development Club has been actively engaged in a range of activities aimed at promoting entrepreneurship among students. Some of the key activities and initiatives include:

Participation in Government Schemes: The club actively promotes government schemes such as the Startup India initiative, Mudra Yojana, and Stand-Up India among students, helping them avail of the benefits offered by these schemes.

Challenges and Future Directions

While the Entrepreneurship Development Club has made significant progress in promoting entrepreneurship among students, it faces several challenges that need to be addressed to ensure its continued success. Some of the key challenges include:

Limited Resources: The club operates with limited resources, which can constrain its ability to organize large-scale events and initiatives. There is a need for increased funding and support from the college and external stakeholders.

Sustainability: Ensuring the long-term sustainability of the club's activities is a challenge. The club needs to develop a sustainable model that allows it to continue its activities even after the initial enthusiasm wanes.

Student Engagement: While the club has been successful in engaging a significant number of students, there is a need to reach out to a broader audience and ensure that all students, regardless of their academic background, are aware of the opportunities available through the club.

Industry Collaboration: While the club has established some collaborations with industry experts and government agencies, there is a need to deepen these collaborations and establish long-term partnerships that can provide ongoing support to students.

Monitoring and Evaluation: The club needs to establish a robust monitoring and evaluation framework to assess the impact of its activities and make data-driven decisions to improve its effectiveness.

Future Directions

Remove Watermark Wondershare PDFelement

- To address these challenges and build on its successes, the Entrepreneurship Development Club should consider he following future directions:
- Expansion of Activities: The club should explore new activities and initiatives, such as hackathons, innovation challenges, and entrepreneurship boot camps, to engage students and provide them with hands-on experience in entrepreneurship.
- Strengthening Industry Collaboration: The club should work towards establishing stronger collaborations with industry experts, successful entrepreneurs, and government agencies. This could include setting up an advisory board comprising industry leaders who can provide guidance and support to the club.
- Alumni Engagement: The club should engage with alumni who have successfully ventured into entrepreneurship. Alumni can serve as role models, mentors, and potential investors for student startups.
- Digital Presence: The club should establish a strong digital presence through a dedicated website and social media channels. This will help in reaching out to a wider audience, promoting its activities, and providing resources and information to students.
- Partnership with Incubators and Accelerators: The club should explore partnerships with business incubators and accelerators to provide students with access to resources, mentorship, and funding opportunities.
- Research and Development: The club should encourage students to engage in research and development activities that can lead to innovative business ideas. This could include setting up a dedicated research cell within the club.
- Policy Advocacy: The club should engage in policy advocacy to promote entrepreneurship-friendly policies at the college and university level. This could include advocating for the inclusion of entrepreneurship as a subject in the curriculum and the establishment of a dedicated entrepreneurship cell within the college.

Conclusion

The registration of the Entrepreneurship Development Club at Sree Narayana College, Chempazhanthy, with the District Industries Centre is a significant milestone in the college's efforts to promote entrepreneurship among its students. The club has already made a positive impact by creating awareness, developing skills, and providing students with access to resources

A 24-year-old with a mission to make Nendran bananas a 'global icon'

VARSHA SOMARAJ @TPuram

WHEN Annie started her entrepreneurial journey at 21, she wanted to inspire and transform lives. Now, at 24, she is channelling that passion towards spreading her wings to the global snacking scene with 'Gluay', a flavourful, internationally inspired snacks using our own 'Nendran' bananas.

Gluay, which means 'banana' in Thai, offers a range of banana chips seasoned with flavours from around the world. "Not every flavour works with bananas, so we had to experiment and tweak recipes to find the perfect balance. It's not just about creating snacks, it's about building a brand that respects the environment and the people behind the product," says Annie, a Thiruvananthapuram native.

Annie's inspiration struck in 2019, but the pandemic delayed her plans. Using the downtime to research and refine her vision, she explored how the iconic banana chips could be reinvented with healthier ingredients and global flavours.

Now, the brand offers a variety of flavours, including Spanish Tomato, Korean Spicy BBQ, Himalayan Salt & Pepper, Cheesy Cheddar, Thai Chilly Lime, Chinese Hot n Spicy and Creme n Onion. It is packaged in PVC composite cans.

"Bananas are a staple in our diet. Despite being the world's largest producer, India contributes less than 1% to the global banana export market. That felt like a wasted opportunity. I wanted to showcase India's agricultural heritage, starting with something as humble yet versatile as bananas," says Annie.

She started with pop-up stores and tasting campaigns, where she introduced flavoured banana chips to consumers. "People doubted the concept initially, but once they tasted the chips, they loved them," adds Annie.

By 2023, Annie launched Gluay under AGEO Global Foods Private Limited, setting up a factory in Thiruvallam. The brand is now chosen as the official flavour partner for 'Huddle Global 2024'. "Our state's banana chips market is worth Rs 750 crore, but it's largely unorganised. We aim to create a brand synonymous with quality and innovation, much like how PepsiCo or ITC revolutionised their markets," she says.

Currently bootstrapped, Annie is seeking investors to scale operations. Her goal is to position Gluay as a global brand, introducing healthier, culturally rich snack options to an international audience.

Available online through platforms like Amazon and Gluay's official website, the brand invites consumers to "Taste the Happiness." [www.gluay.in] (http://www.gluay.in).

Hardy. The film explores Ramanujan's intellectual journey, his cultural clashes with the British establishment, and the challenges he faced while battling illness and societal prejudices.

Shakuntala Devi is a 2020 Indian Hindi-language biographical drama film tracing the life of mathematician and mental calculator Shakuntala Devi who was also known as the "human computer", The extraordinary story of Shakuntala Devi, the world-renowned mathematician who lived her life on her terms. The project commenced with a needs assessment and subsequent fundraising efforts, collecting voluntary contributions from students and faculty to procure reliable and sturdy mobility walkers. During the donation event, which was attended by NSS Program Officers and college authorities, volunteers provided personalized instruction on the proper use and maintenance of the aids, ensuring the comfort and safety of the recipients. This initiative significantly boosted the quality of life for the beneficiaries, reaffirmed the college's dedication to social responsibility, and exemplified the NSS motto, "Not Me But You," by translating selfless community service into tangible, positive impact.
